

SPEAKING OF DADS...

“...he already knew I was going to succeed in ways neither of us could imagine, and he couldn’t be prouder. His vote of confidence stuck, not in my conscious brain, but somewhere deep and permanent and useful.”

- ELISHA WIESEL, son of Elie Wiesel, Nobel Peace Prize winner, writer, and activist

“My father always said, ‘Don’t worry about what everyone else is thinking, because they’re too busy worrying about themselves to really think about you.’ It’s so easy to get self-obsessed or to judge yourself based on others, but it’s so silly.”

- JENNIFER GRANT, daughter of film legend Cary Grant

“When one has not had a good father, one must create one.”
- FRIEDRICH NIETZSCHE, German philosopher, poet and composer

“It no longer bothers me that I may be constantly searching for father figures; by this time, I have found several and dearly enjoyed knowing them all.”

- ALICE WALKER, author, poet, feminist, activist, Pulitzer Prize winner

“He told (us): ‘If you don’t vote, I’ll disown you.’ It was not an idle threat. He believed strongly that we should all take part in politics, at the very least by voting.”

- NELL NEWMAN, daughter of the late Paul Newman

“I watched a small man with thick calluses on both hands work fifteen and sixteen hours a day. I saw him once literally bleed from the bottoms of his feet, a man who came here uneducated, alone, unable to speak the language, who taught me all I needed to know about faith and hard work by the simple eloquence of his example.”

- MARIO CUOMO, three-term governor of New York

“I have never been a material girl. My father always told me never to love anything that cannot love you back.”

- IMELDA MARCOS, politician and widow of Philippine dictator Ferdinand E. Marcos

SEE SOME COOL-CAT SUGGESTIONS
INSIDE THIS ISSUE!

“Let’s admit it: buying a meaningful Father’s Day gift isn’t easy. I’ve got a hanger of funky ties and a drawer full of little gadgets in my desk somewhere. I’m sure my father did, too. So, we’re passing on a few suggestions, based on different dad-types, to help you pick out a well-suited gift for yours. From all of us at IDC Denver, we hope you have a great Father’s Day.” – Martin J. Farrell, IDC Denver

FATHER'S DAY

IDEAS

Match your kind of dad to the gift idea that really suits him. HAVE FUN!

THE DIY DAD

Your dad is proud of the skills he taught you: how to fix household items and maintain the car; how to get the most out of a flea market; and how to mesquite-grill the best kebabs around. He's always got a project going. See the handy-dandy gift ideas MARKED A.

THE SPORTY DAD

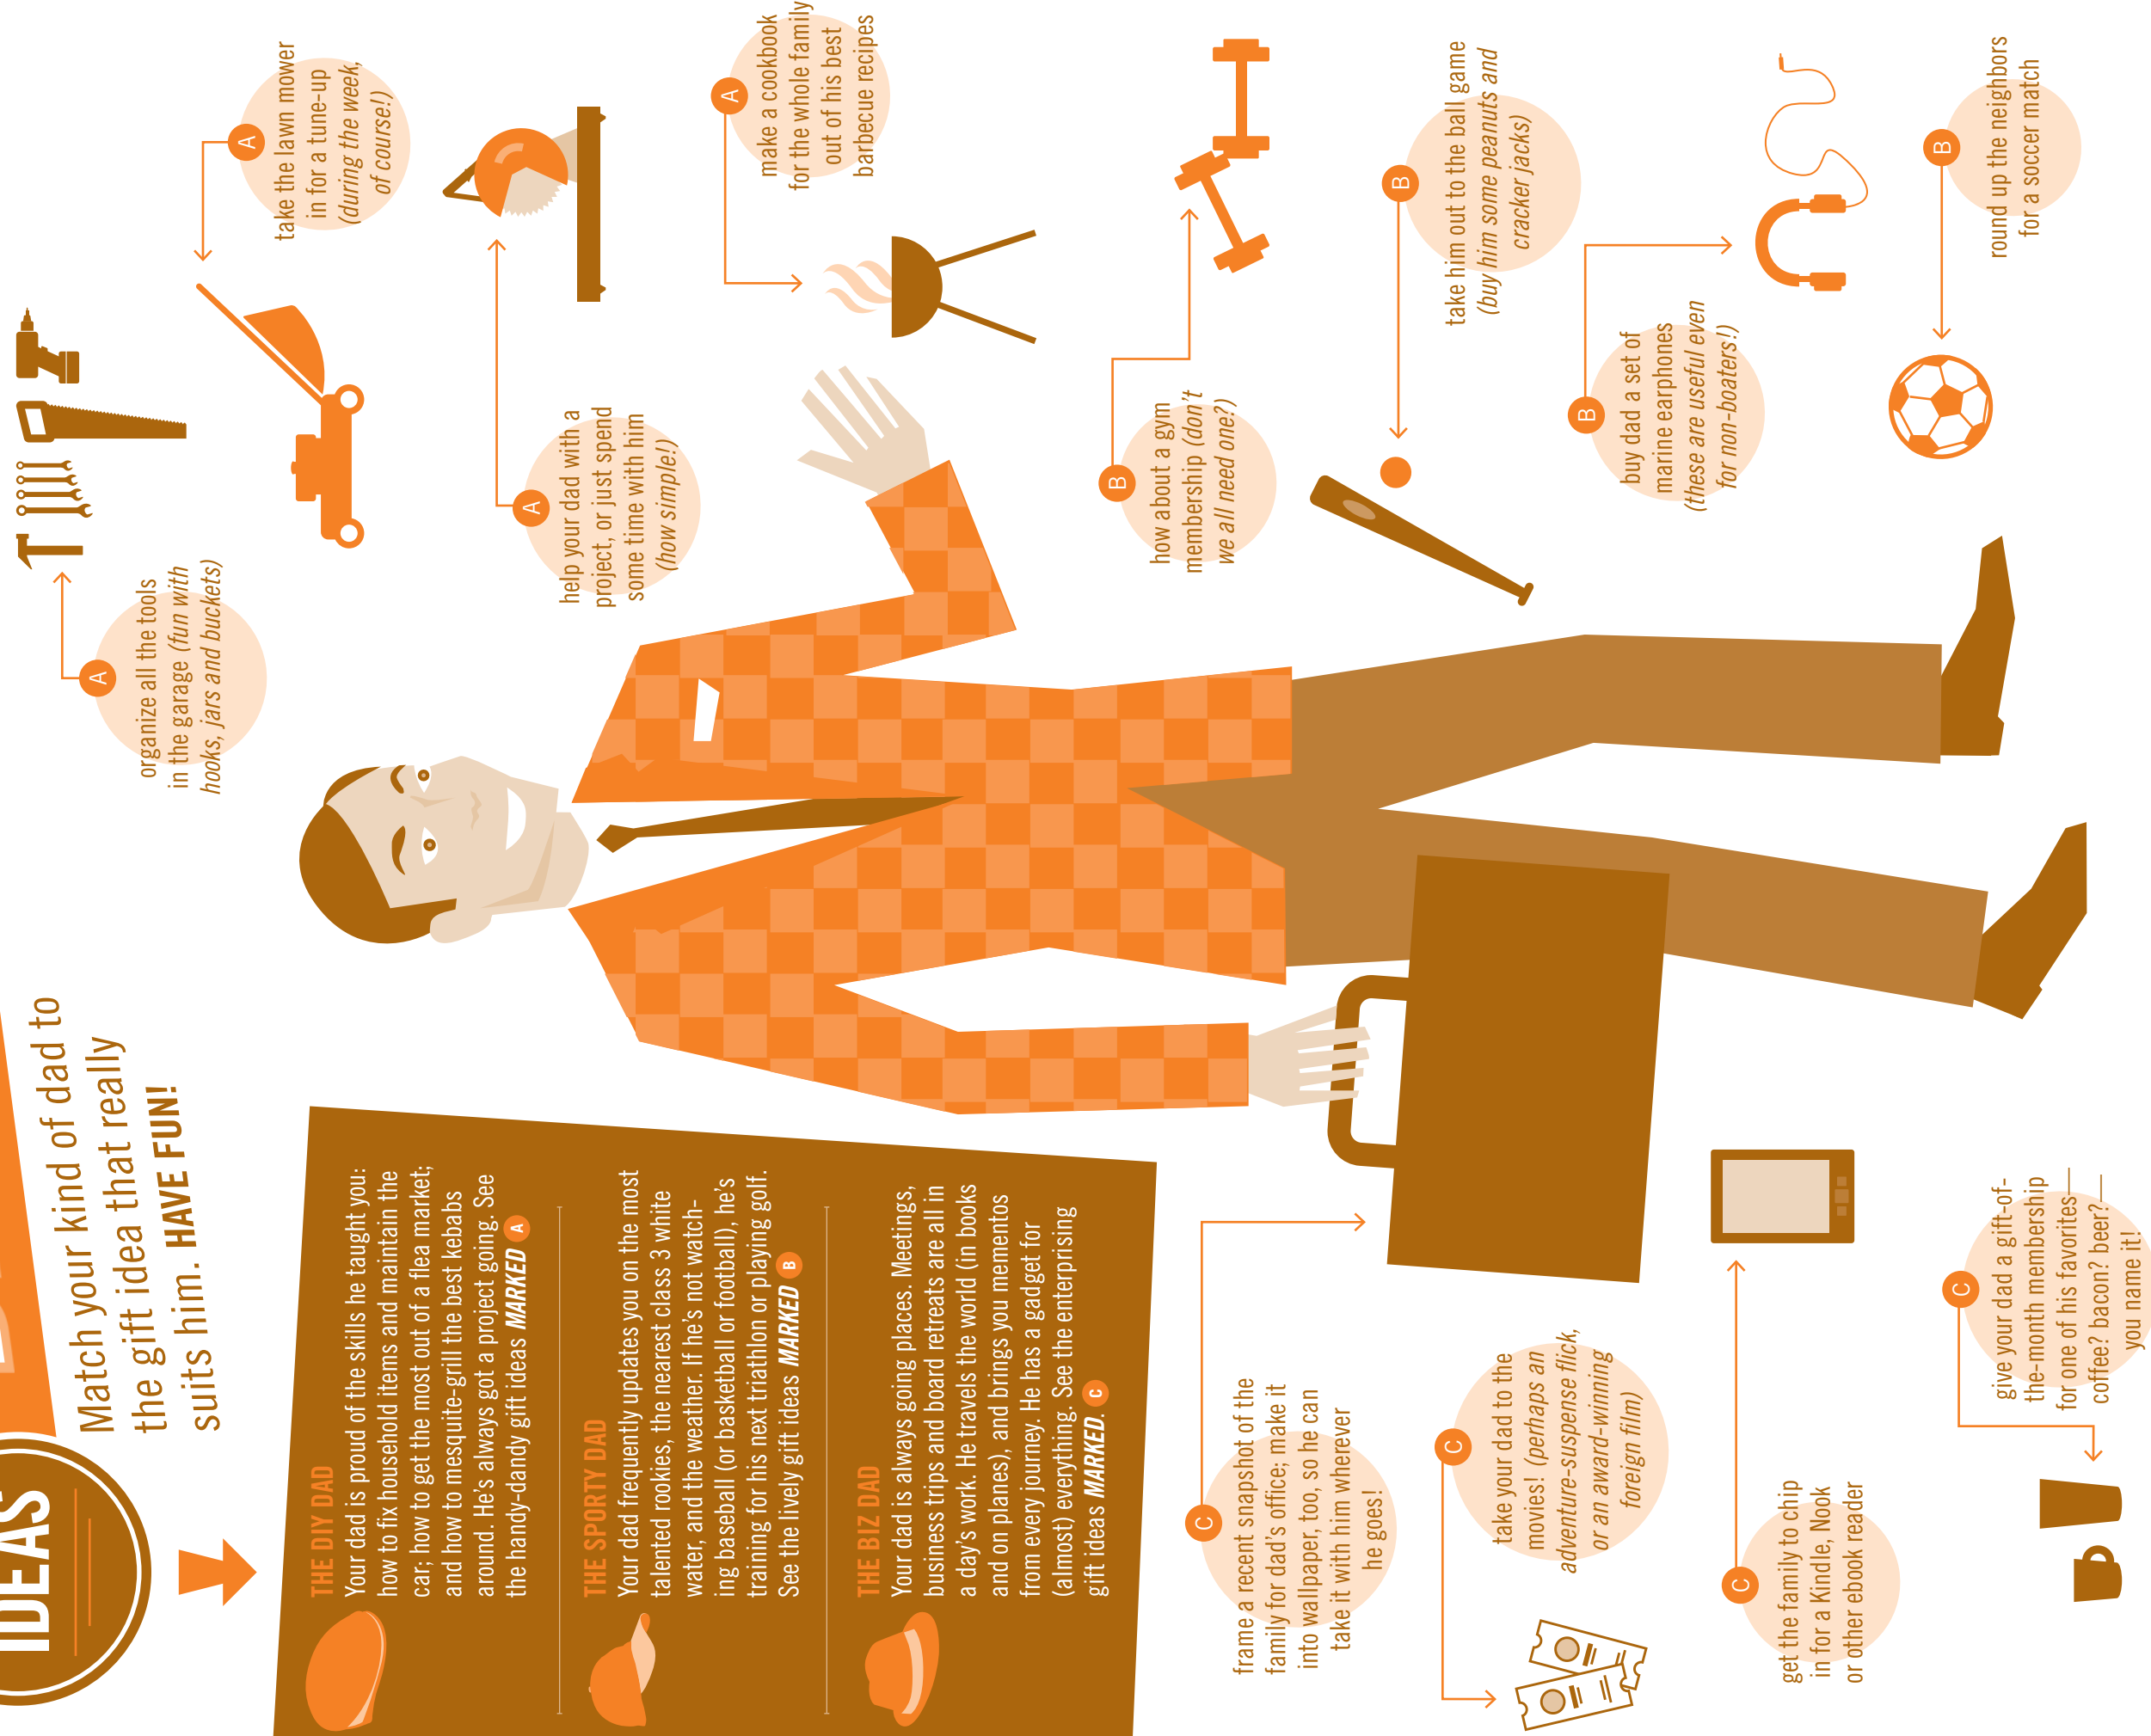

Your dad frequently updates you on the most talented rookies, the nearest class 3 white water, and the weather. If he's not watching baseball (or basketball or football), he's training for his next triathlon or playing golf. See the lively gift ideas MARKED B.

THE BIZ DAD

Your dad is always going places. Meetings, business trips and board retreats are all in a day's work. He travels the world (in books and on planes), and brings you mementos from every journey. He has a gadget for (almost) everything. See the enterprising gift ideas MARKED C.

FATHERS... YOU CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT THEM!

Mentor and mensch, rock star or repairman, just think of all the ways your Dad (or "Dad") has impacted your life over the years: reeling in that first fish, drilling your times tables, warding off bullies, and packing your stuff into the van and moving you... how many times? This Father's Day, June 17th, forgive his shortcomings (we all have them) and go somewhere special with your Dad, make him a gift, or help him with a project he's really keen about!

At IDC Denver we know not every day is a special holiday, but we know how to make each one of our customers feel special. Just ask our patients. Happy Father's Day!
