YOUR OWN PERSONAL SPRING FEVER

This spring, you may have a major urge to clean out your closets. Or, perhaps you’ll wash, wax and detail your car, while thinking, “What’s gotten into me?” Spring fever comes in countless forms, so you may just find yourself doing any or all of the following over the next month or two:

- scouring home decorator catalogs for patio furniture
- gardening, gardening, and more gardening
- going on a cleaning craze
- reading “Spring Fever” by Mary Kay Andrews
- going on an outdoor date
- discovering new music
- predicting the 2012 baseball season
- wallpapering your “sunroom”
- snacking on grapefruit
- reading “Spring Fever” by P.G. Wodehouse
- re-organizing your kitchen and bathroom
- building a picket fence to surround your yard

Whatever you do, we hope you find yourself enjoying the springtime!

FOCUS ON THE WHO

SPRING FEVER:

IF YOU’VE GOT IT, FEED IT!

“Spring is one of my favorite seasons. Growing up in New York, it was the time we played wiffle ball in the streets again, stayed out later, and counted the days to Spring Break. As adults, we don’t always have that carefree feeling about Spring. We have work, bills, and kids to care for, and sometimes that means we forget to play outside a little later and have some fun. So, this month we’re focusing on getting out and having an adventure; on discovering what excites us about springtime and travel. While we can’t always afford or make time to go off to Australia, we can still get together and share in the fun of Spring Fever.” – Martin J. Farrell, CMI North

SPRING IS HERE!

The sun shines, the clouds drift by, and you think, "I want to go on an adventure!"

SO, WHAT KIND OF EXCURSIONS ARE FOR YOU?

Are you a nature lover who seeks scenic views on a bike or on foot? Perhaps you're a pisces or cancer who loves all water sports. Or, you may be a lover of arts—culinary and otherwise. On the other hand, you may be a big music fan! Answer each flower's yes/no question below for your ideal far-flung adventure!

YOU BELONG

1 in Paris, touring the Louvre and dining at Maxim's! Then, there is the Musée d'Orsay, a little cafe, plus more art, more style and more food in this, the City of Light. Merveilleux!

YOU BELONG

2 an International Jazz Festival Tour of Cuba! Take classes in poly-rhythmic percussion overlooking the Caribbean by day, and go to AfroCuban Culture hubs thumping the beats of habanera, mambo, and salsa by night! Excelente!

YOU BELONG

3 on a raft in Bolivia, navigating the rapids of the Tuichi River, observing the amazing scenery of the eastern slopes of the Andes, and ending in the rainforest in Madidi National Park! Fantástico!

YOU BELONG

4 on a zip line jungle adventure in North Queensland, Australia! Take a treetop adventure where you never touch the ground, ending up at the Great Barrier Reef! Ace!
